WA's Bowling Centers Introduce Aggressive Healthy Measures To Keep Lanes Safe

With Governor Inslee's announcement that bowling centers will be allowed to open in Phase 3 of his pandemic strategy, center operators around the state have used the past eight weeks to create a safe, welcoming, and fun experience for customers and employees. Members of the Washington State Bowling Proprietors' Association (WSBPA) and the national trade organization, the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America (BPAA), have teamed up to implement statewide recommendations of extensive sanitation protocols, including PPE for employees, social distancing throughout the venue, and deep cleaning of all shared areas and equipment.

To learn more about what Washingtonians can expect when they get back to bowling, please click here www.wsbpa.org.

For access to the BPAA's COVID 19 re-opening safety practice, please click here and credit the (Bowling Proprietors Association of America), BPAA if you use these clips.

If you'd like to speak to a local bowling operator around specifics for your neighborhood center, please let me know and I'd be happy to set that up.

Thanks,
